

WFP POLICY FORMULATION

INFORMAL CONSULTATION

15 March 2011

World Food Programme
Rome, Italy

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

In May 2009 the Bureau requested information on the policy development process; the 2008 Annual Evaluation Report presented to the Board at its 2009 Annual Session also highlighted the need to clarify how policies are formulated and implemented. This information note is a response to those requests. It is divided in two parts:

- I. Policy process: Part I provides an overview of how policies are formulated, implemented, evaluated and updated. It includes a flowchart that shows the different steps and influencing factors in the WFP policy-making process, and covers how WFP's policies and programmes reflect broader policy-making within the United Nations system globally, in regional bureaux¹ and in country offices.²
- II. Board document classification: Part II explains classification of documents for presentation to the Board.

PART I: WFP POLICY PROCESS

Policy Guidance

- Overall policy guidance is provided to WFP by the General Assembly of the United Nations, the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (FAO) Conference, the Economic and Social Council of the United Nations (ECOSOC) and the FAO Council. The following diagram illustrates the range of bodies and institutions within the United Nations system from which WFP draws broad policy guidance, and how WFP reports back to the relevant governing bodies.

Acronyms in figure: ACABQ – Advisory Committee on Administrative and Budgetary Question, CEB – Chief Executives Board for Coordination, HLCM – High Level Committee on Management, HLCP – High Level Committee on Programmes, HLTF – High Level Task Force, IASC – Inter-Agency Standing Committee, NDP – National Development Plan, PRSP – Poverty Reduction Strategy Paper, UNDG – United Nations Development Group

- The General Regulations and General Rules assign the Board the responsibility for providing intergovernmental support and specific policy direction to WFP that is consistent with the overall policy guidance provided by the United Nations General Assembly, the FAO Conference, ECOSOC and the FAO Council.³ Within WFP, the Policy Committee provides strategic level guidance on policy issues, and the Executive Policy Council makes decisions on policy and strategy issues based on recommendations from the Policy Committee.⁴ The Policy Committee Secretariat, which is a function of Policy, Planning and Strategy Division (PS), is responsible for overseeing the policy development process.

- Country-led processes create a natural vehicle for the United Nations and donors to align and coordinate their activities to increase performance in addressing hunger and related issues. Efforts to harmonize and simplify aid processes to allow greater efficiency as outlined in the Paris Declaration continue. Increasing national ownership of the development process and defining the roles of donors and partners more clearly are at the core of this evolution. The participation by WFP in forums such as PRSs and UNDAFs, for example, ensures a coherent and effective conduit from national priorities into the WFP policy framework.

Policy Cycle

- WFP policy papers follow the cycle depicted in the following diagram.

- A more detailed explanation of the policy development process is provided below.

⇒ Policy conception

- New policies are initiated when WFP enters into new areas of work, when a gap in existing policies is identified, or when the changing context or directives from governing bodies require a policy to be reviewed and reissued. Sometimes the Board provides the impulse for a new policy, while at other times a new policy may be initiated by the Secretariat. In particular, the PS monitors global dialogue for trends, ideas and developments that may lead to shifts or changes in WFP's policies.

⁴ Executive Director's Circular ED2008/001 of 29 January 2008: Establishment of the WFP Executive Policy Council and Policy Committee

7. The need for a new policy may arise following the approval of a new Strategic Plan and a corresponding shift in Strategic Objectives. Policies should support the Strategic Objectives and may be complemented by action plans, implementation plans and operational guidance. Whether there should be a new policy or a complement to an existing policy is determined at the policy conception stage.
8. PS is usually responsible for assessing the need for new policies and for drafting the policy papers. However, if a policy falls under another division's area of work, that division becomes the lead division responsible for drafting the policy paper. The lead division assigns the paper to an author.
9. The Board is kept informed of policy initiatives through regular consultations with the Bureau and the Secretariat, and through the Biennial Programme of Work, which includes upcoming policy documents.

⇒ Policy-making

10. The procedure for the development of a policy follows these steps:
 - i) Evaluation of new directives or gaps – The Secretariat considers the new directive or gap and determines whether a policy update or new policy would be more appropriate.
 - ii) Research, analysis, consultation and drafting of the paper – The lead division engages in consultations at Headquarters and in the field, along with external experts and partners, and drafts a policy paper that incorporates their inputs. This usually takes around three months.
 - iii) Draft paper provided to the Policy Committee Secretariat – The author provides the draft policy paper to the Policy Committee Secretariat, whose Chair – the Director of PS – determines whether the paper is ready for presentation to the Policy Committee.
 - iv) Policy Committee meets and reviews the draft paper – The Policy Committee requests any adjustments to the paper and decides if it is ready for consideration by the Executive Policy Council, ensuring that the objectives of the policy are clear, coherent with overall corporate objectives and synchronized with the objectives of other policies.
 - v) Executive Policy Council meets and reviews the draft paper – The Executive Policy Council requests any adjustments to the paper and decides if it is ready for consideration by the Board.
 - vi) Paper reviewed by Board at an informal consultation⁵ – The lead division presents the paper to the Board at an informal consultation and takes note of any comments or suggestions offered.
 - vii) Paper revised and forwarded to the Policy Committee Secretariat – The lead division revises the paper according to the feedback received from the Board and forwards it to the Policy Committee Secretariat. The Policy Committee Secretariat determines if the changes to the document are substantive enough to require resubmission to the Executive Policy Council for its attention or if the paper is ready to present to the Executive Director.

⁵ Informal consultations may be organized at the request of the Board or the Secretariat.

- viii) Paper provided to the Executive Director – The lead division provides the amended paper to the Executive Director for final review.
 - ix) Paper presented at Board session, if necessary – If required by the Board, in accordance with the Biennial Programme of Work, the relevant lead division presents the paper to the Board⁶ for approval or consideration, as applicable.
 - x) Policy is established – The policy is established and ready for implementation.
11. The entire procedure from initial consultations to establishment of a policy takes around nine months.

⇒ Policy implementation

12. Immediately following approval of a new policy, it is posted on the WFP internal website, WFPgo, and on the public website, www.wfp.org. A message is sent to all WFP offices advising of the new policy; it is made available on the WFP internal website.
13. Implementation of WFP policies includes the following activities:
- An implementation plan/strategy is prepared by the lead division with support from relevant divisions (particularly the Programme Division, whose role in developing programmes and providing guidance is strongly linked to policy implementation).
 - The lead division shares the implementation plan and funding requirements with the Strategic Resource Allocation Committee (SRAC) for consideration and prioritization.
 - Relevant divisions provide Regional Directors and country directors with strategic and technical guidance and support.
 - The PRC provides policy and normative advice on the design of WFP’s operational projects, including recommendations to regional bureaux and country offices on the policy, design, strategy and implementation of projects. PRC members (specifically the Chief of the Programme Design Service and Director of PS) are responsible for ensuring that a proposed programme or project conforms to WFP’s policies.⁷
 - Regional Directors and country directors ensure that the policy guidance is followed in a country office’s projects and Country Strategy.⁸
 - The relevant divisions monitor and support policy implementation and assess the effectiveness of policies. A review of how projects reflect a policy may reveal gaps or indicate that a policy is no longer relevant. In such cases, potential revision of a policy, or development of a new policy, is overseen by the Policy Committee Secretariat, bringing the policy cycle full circle.

⇒ Policy evaluation

14. Within four to six years of implementation, a policy is evaluated to assess its effectiveness. The evaluation may be a strategic evaluation carried out by the Office of Evaluation (OE).⁹ Strategic evaluations provide in-depth assessments of: i) the quality of the policy; ii) the implementation of the policy and WFP’s capacity to deliver against policy commitments; and iii) the results achieved as a result of policy implementation.¹⁰

15. When a policy covers internal system improvements, the Inspector General and Oversight Office (OS) also conducts a review of the effectiveness of the policy and its implementation.

PART II: BOARD DOCUMENTS CLASSIFICATION

16. The Board uses three classifications for documents, as follows:

- For approval: For such documents as budgets, general regulations or general rules mandated by the Board, or those relating to matters that ECOSOC or the General Assembly has asked the Board to decide on.
- For consideration: Usually for documents on policy, administrative or organizational matters on which the Board gives an opinion or guidance to the Secretariat.
- For information: For documents that present information about a given issue.
