Inter-Agency

Jordan: Support to emergency vaccinations coordinated with multiple agencies

Turkey: Cash-based Intervention Technical Working Group

Lebanon: Strategic Review of Food and Nutrition Security completed with Government of Lebanon

CONTEXTUAL RISKS:

- Clashes between military forces and ISIL affecting security situation
- Limited access for delivery of humanitarian aid throughout Syria
- Insecurity across the region including recent terrorism attacks in Turkey.
- Tensions between host communities and Syrians in neighbouring countries (pressure on host economies)

PROGRAMMATIC RISKS:

- Funding shortfalls hindering achievement of programmatic objectives
- Displacement affecting ability to accommodate affected populations within existing camps and infrastructure
- Diminishing purchasing power in host communities leading to food insecurity (Egypt, Jordan)

INSTITUTIONAL RISKS:

- Maintaining perception as neutral and independent humanitarian actor
- Availability of corporate capacity in areas such as cash-based transfers, monitoring or AAP in times of multiple emergencies
- Risk to staff safety
