

FIRST EXECUTIVE BOARD (EB.I/2015)
WFP LATIN AMERICA AND THE CARIBBEAN
Rome, February 2015

World Food Programme

*By Miguel Barreto
Regional Director
WFP Latin America and the Caribbean Regional Bureau*

A close-up photograph of a man with a mustache and a hat, looking directly at the camera. He is holding a single, dried, and brittle ear of corn in his hand. The background is slightly blurred, showing some dry vegetation and a landscape under a cloudy sky. The overall tone is somber and highlights the impact of drought on agriculture.

Hugo Jolón, from Guatemala, is one of about 2.5 million subsistence farmers who have seen their crops decimated in 2014 by drought. Jolón lost all his maize crop and needed food assistance to get through the crisis.

Photo: WFP/Francisco Fión

Drought Central America

Children living in the Dry Corridor of Nicaragua.
Photo: WFP/ Sabrina Quezada

WFP and FAO team up to provide temporary employment to local farmers to build terraces to prevent landslides. In this file photo from 2013, women help build a terrace through a Cash-for-Assets project. From 2010 through 2014, cash- or food-for-work and assets projects helped to create job opportunities for over 200,000 Haitians.

Photo: WFP/Elio Rujano

Haiti- WFP Works with Haitians to Recover and Build Resilience from Recurrent Disasters after the Earthquake

Bolivia Floods- Life Saving Food Distributed to More Than 50,000 People

Honduras School Meals: 1.4 Million Children Assisted in Partnership with the Government of Honduras. Introducing Fresh Foods into the Programme.

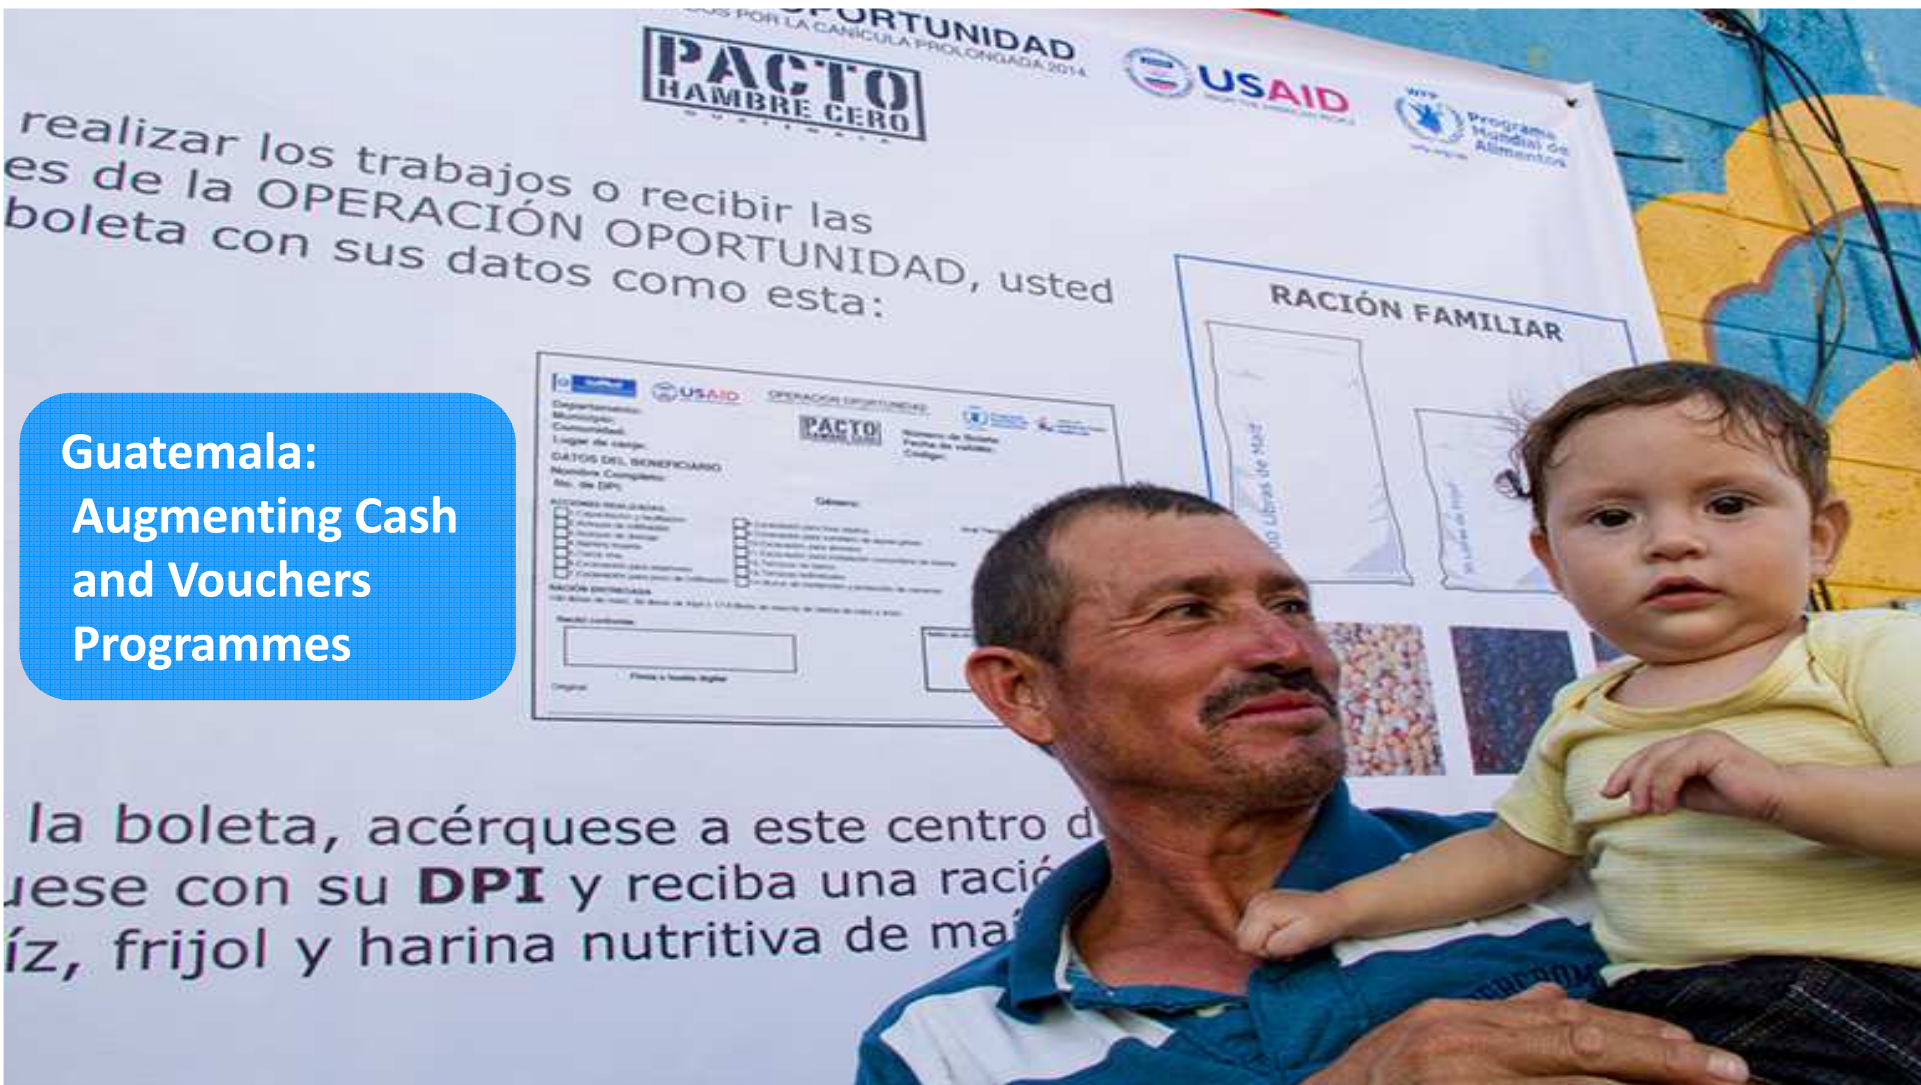

Bolivia School Meals

At Sundur Wasi school, children eat organic potatoes produced by their parents, with the support of the ISSANDES project, and rice provided by WFP. ISSANDES stands for the Innovation for Food Security and Sovereignty in the Andes project, financed by the International Potato Center (CIP) and the European Union (EU).

Dominican Republic: Progresando con Solidaridad
Programme reduced Anaemia by Half in Participant Children

Guatemala:
Augmenting Cash
and Vouchers
Programmes

la boleta, acérquese a este centro de distribución y pídese con su DPI y reciba una ración familiar de maíz, frijol y harina nutritiva de ma

Photo: WFP/ Francisco Fion

Muchas gracias!

Programa Mundial de Alimentos

Luchando contra el Hambre en el Mundo / Fighting Hunger Worldwide