OPPORTUNITIES

GRADUAL RE-ENTRY INTO LIBYA

- FEB 2018 → UN evacuation status was lifted
- MAR 2018 → WFP increased its operational presence with:
 - ▶ Relocation of international staff
 - ▶ Recruitment of national staff
 - ▶ Opening of an office in Tripoli

BEGINNING OF 2019 → WFP plans to fully relocate from Tunis to Tripoli with the plan of expanding into Benghazi.

STRATEGIC CONTRIBUTION TO UN EFFORTS

The ICSP, aligned with the UNSF for the next two years, shapes WFP's contribution to collective UN efforts, including through the launch of UNHAS operations and the leadership of telecommunications and logistics clusters.

SHIFTING MODALITIES

 WFP plans to gradually replace in-kind transfers with cash-based transfers (CBT) where applicable, contributing to stimulating the local economy while potentially mitigating security risks around delivery, particularly in conflict areas.

PREPARING FOR RECOVERY

 Contingent on the relative stabilization of the situation in Libya, WFP will gradually introduce over the duration of the ICSP interventions that enable recovery. WFP will also pilot livelihood support activities in both rural and urban settings, which capitalize on women's ability to contribute to reconciliation and peace-building efforts.

WFP LESSONS LEARNED & RESULTS TO DATE

Preparedness and flexibility are key to delivering life-saving assistance in a complex and unpredictable environment.

Re-establishing full presence in Tripoli and gradually in other parts of Libya are crucial for consolidating WFP's role as a key partner in Libya and achieving programme deliverables.

Focusing on gender analysis is key to better understanding the gender-related causes of food insecurity, the differentiated needs of women, men, girls and boys and designing the most appropriate responses.

Working across the humanitarian-development-peace nexus builds on the complementariness of partners for the achievement of joint objectives.
