Agenda item 6
WFP/EB.2/2022/6-D/Add.1
Evaluation reports
For consideration

Executive Board documents are available on WFP’s website (https://executiveboard.wfp.org).

Management response to the recommendations from the summary report on the evaluation of the country strategic plan for India (2019–2023)

1. This document presents the WFP management response to the recommendations in the summary report on the evaluation of the country strategic plan (CSP) for India for 2019–2022.¹

2. The purpose of the evaluation was to inform the preparation of a new CSP.

3. The evaluation was conducted between August 2021 and April 2022 and covered the design of the current CSP, its implementation from January 2019 to November 2021 and WFP activities at the national level and in the states of Kerala, Odisha, Rajasthan, Uttarakhand and Uttar Pradesh.

4. The evaluation made three strategic recommendations and three operational recommendations; sub-recommendations describe how each recommendation can be implemented.

5. The response sets out whether WFP agrees, partially agrees or disagrees with the evaluation recommendations and sub-recommendations. It presents the planned (or completed) actions, responsibilities and timelines for the implementation of those recommendations.

¹ The duration of the CSP was originally from 2019 to 2023 but was reduced by one year through a CSP revision that brought it into line with the United Nations sustainable development cooperation framework (UNSDCF) cycle for India. As a result of the reduction there was no mid-term review of the CSP.

Additional country office context

6. The India CSP for 2019–2022 is focused on enhancing the effectiveness and efficiency of government food-based safety nets and supporting national and state level policy and decision making. As recognized by the evaluation, it features WFP in an enabling role built around a comprehensive approach to country capacity strengthening. It is management’s understanding that, in that context, the Government plays a leading role. WFP cannot commit on its own to the implementation of some of the evaluation recommendations because they do not recognize the partnership that characterizes WFP’s country capacity strengthening approach. For this reason, management agrees only partially with the wording of some of the recommendations and proposes actions based on full recognition of national ownership and leadership.

<td>Recommendation 1: Consolidate, build on successes and develop medium-term strategies and approaches based on capacity needs assessments for each country strategic plan outcome in the new country strategic plan, integrating innovation and South-South and triangular cooperation into all country strategic plan outcomes.</td>
<td>Country office (regional bureau, headquarters Technical Assistance and Country Capacity Strengthening Service (PRO-T))</td>
<td>Partially agreed. No new capacity needs assessments will be conducted for the new CSP.</td>
<td>In the new CSP, innovation and South-South and triangular cooperation (SSTC) are included in all four CSP outcomes. The country office will continue to explore and scale up technical innovations and SSTC under all CSP outcomes, based on their success in pilots.</td>

<td>2.1 Explore and expand WFP engagement in a comprehensive manner in states confronted with food security and nutrition challenges in order to promote government replication and scale-up of successful best practices and innovative models for achieving food security and nutrition.</td>
<td>Country office</td>
<td>Partially agreed. Owing to its understanding of the context, the Government is the lead for CCS efforts. Such work requires engagement with ministries and departments and relies on co-funding from state governments. The comprehensive expansion of CCS efforts depends on the willingness of all state departments to engage and the availability of adequate unearmarked resources for WFP.</td>
<td>Initiate conversations on the expansion of WFP’s CCS work to additional states, proceeding only if there is demand from state governments and adequate resources for doing so. a) Based on the vision developed in response to sub-recommendation 1.3, develop a five-year vision of comprehensive state-level engagement in the new CSP, in consultation with the governments of priority states. b) Document best practices for sharing among states.</td>

<td>2.2 Capture the experience and lessons learned from states such as Odisha and Kerala and share them through inter-regional exchanges within India and with international partners through South–South and triangular cooperation.</td>
<td>Country office</td>
<td>Partially agreed. The documentation of experiences with engagement in specific thematic areas (supply chain optimization, rice fortification, etc.) would be more appealing to the central Government than to state governments because the central Government funds schemes in those areas.</td>
<td>Document experiences and lessons learned by subject – rice fortification, the production of take-home rations, optimization of the public distribution system, the development of national evaluation capacity and the mainstreaming of millets. WFP will work with the Government to explore dissemination opportunities.</td>

| 2.3 Identify a small set of core activities backed up by resources and advocacy that can be replicated across other states. | Country office | Agreed.
The activities will depend on state government acceptance. Rice fortification and supply chain optimization activities are already being replicated in additional states. | In the annual performance planning exercise, the country office will identify priority activities for expansion to other states and possible sources of funding for the expansion (the private sector, state co-funding, etc.). | CSP outcome 1, 2 and 3 managers | March 2023 |

Deadline: fourth quarter of 2022
Recommendation 3: Step up efforts to integrate and strengthen gender equality, women's empowerment and inclusive approaches. | Country office (regional bureau gender advisor, disability and inclusion advisor, headquarters Gender Office) | Agreed. | WFP's approach to gender and inclusion involves working directly through government programmes and systems and not only through WFP interventions, most of which take the form of technical support and capacity strengthening. However, while management agrees with the main recommendation, the sub-recommendations seem to be focused on WFP as a delivering agency and not an enabling partner to the Government. WFP's actions in response to the sub-recommendations will therefore be modified to reflect the approach that WFP follows in the country. | | Fourth quarter of 2023
(Please note that the suggested deadline does not allow for a comprehensive approach to the mainstreaming of gender and inclusion into development work.) |

<td>Country office</td>
<td>Partially agreed. Noting the positive evaluation finding that “gender- and inclusion-sensitive approaches and gender analysis informed WFP research and analysis […] [with a strong] commitment to institutionalizing a gender-transformative agenda” (paragraph 32), management will continue to support the Government in this area. Unlike other WFP operations, there is no specific intervention cycle for CCS work in India. WFP supports and strengthens government programmes, so its main entry points are the conduct of assessments that highlight the specific challenges faced by women, tribal populations and disabled persons and their families in obtaining access to government programmes, because such assessments contribute to the building of an evidence base for policy advocacy.</td>
<td>a) The gender unit will develop and launch training modules on gender and women’s financial inclusion for use by non-governmental organizations, women’s self-help groups and government partners under CSP outcome 3. b) The country office will conduct a tribal study and a disability and inclusion pilot study in Odisha.</td>

<td>3.2 Develop a plan to ensure the systematic involvement of the gender unit in all country strategic plan outcome activity planning, design and implementation as well as in the production of social and behaviour change communication and communication materials.</td>
<td>Partially agreed. For some technical work, such as supply chain optimization and the introduction of alternative storage facilities for government programmes, the target beneficiaries are government systems and not people, so gender components are not relevant.</td>
<td>Gender considerations are being integrated into work on supply chain strengthening, information, education and communication and data analysis, nutrition, school feeding, women's empowerment, climate change adaptation and disaster risk management. The gender unit will continue to work with the SBCC team to ensure the integration of gender into all materials.</td>

<td>3.3 Fully integrate and communicate gender and inclusion considerations throughout engagement with government entities at all levels and other partners in order to identify and advocate ways to support the inclusion of eligible marginalized and vulnerable groups in food-based government safety net programmes.</td>
<td>Country office</td>
<td>Partially agreed. In principle all vulnerable groups are eligible to benefit from government programmes. However, issues can arise with access to those programmes, which are managed at the state rather than the national level.</td>

<td>3.4 Strengthen capacity to design, implement and monitor gender equality and social inclusion and ensure marginalized groups benefit so that no one is left behind.</td>
<td>Partially agreed. As WFP does not design or implement programmes but instead focuses on strengthening national programmes and systems, the response to this sub-recommendation is linked to the response to sub-recommendation 3.1, through which WFP can raise the awareness of government counterparts and other partners.</td>
<td>Please see the response to sub-recommendation 3.1. WFP will expand its current work on pilots with organizations of persons with disabilities, which is aimed at engaging with the Government to identify and address the barriers faced by persons with disabilities in access to government programmes. WFP will continue its research on tribal groups with a view to supporting the Government in addressing the unique vulnerabilities of those groups.</td>

<td>Priority: Medium Deadline: First quarter of 2023 Recommendation 4: Develop long-term strategic collaboration with stakeholders to support efforts to address food security and nutrition challenges and “leave no one behind”.</td>
<td>Country office</td>
<td>Agreed.</td>
<td>WFP signs state-level memoranda of understanding with the governments of all the states where it has multiple activities. Letters of understanding are signed with state government departments prior to the commencement of any work in states. The agreements called for in the recommendation therefore already exist.</td>

<td>4.1 Strengthen collaboration with the central and state governments. In particular, develop a long-term cooperation plan with the Ministry of Agriculture and Farmers' Welfare, which serves as the lead ministry for the implementation of the country strategic plan; explore and expand direct cooperation with ministries at the national level, including the Ministry of Women and Child Development and the Ministry of Education; and finalize with state governments state-specific partnership strategies for the new country strategic plan.</td>
<td>Country office</td>
<td>Partially agreed. In the memorandum of understanding that WFP will sign on approval of the new CSP, the Ministry of Agriculture and Farmers' Welfare is the lead agency, with convening authority over all other partner ministries, including the Ministry of Women and Child Development and the Ministry of Education. Separate agreements with those ministries are therefore not necessary and would be redundant.</td>
<td>Strategies are useful until WFP's government counterparts change. WFP's work is included in the United Nations sustainable development cooperation framework (UNSDCF), which provides the necessary strategic alignment with stakeholders.</td>
<td>WFP will develop a memorandum of understanding with the Ministry of Agriculture and Farmers' Welfare. WFP will conduct state reviews in Rajasthan, Odisha and Uttar Pradesh to inform the development of strategic frameworks for engagement under the new CSP.</td>

<td>4.2 Strengthen and expand strategic partnerships with non-governmental stakeholders.</td>

The country office has a number of strategic and technical partnerships that can be expanded, including with the organizations of persons with disabilities mentioned in the response to sub-recommendation 3.4.</td>
<td>WFP's existing technical partnerships with academic and research organizations (the Indian Institute of Technology Delhi, Kurukshetra University and others) will be maintained. WFP led the development of two multi-partner trust fund proposals for the response to the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) pandemic in 2020 with the United Nations Development Programme and other entities, but there are few opportunities for joint fundraising in India because there are no pooled funds and no bilateral donors supporting United Nations activities in the</td>

<td>5.1 Pursue further opportunities to mobilize additional funding from central government ministries other than the Ministry of Agriculture and Farmers' Welfare and to negotiate cost-sharing modalities with state governments.</td>
<td>Central government ministries will not allocate funds directly to WFP but will instead direct them to state governments, which will use them for cost-sharing with WFP. WFP already works continually on the negotiation of cost-sharing agreements with state government departments. The current CSP is already more than 100 percent funded.</td>
