¹ Historical figures in this annex might differ slightly from those published in previous annual performance reports owing to updates or further validation of figures following publication.

² The three emergency activation phases, which in 2022 replaced the previous classification of level 1, level 2 and level 3 emergencies, are early action and emergency response, corporate attention, and corporate scale-up. Operations that were in a corporate attention or corporate scale-up phase (equivalent to level 2 or level 3 emergencies) during the calendar year are counted.

³ This figure does not include the response to the coronavirus disease 2019, the first global level 3 emergency experienced by WFP headquarters.

⁴ This figure does not include the corporate scale-up to address the global food crisis.

⁵ This figure only covers the period January to June 2025, until the publication of the corporate alert system was paused.

⁶ WFP started to report on the residence status of migrants in 2022 to align with the International Organization for Migration, which defines a migrant as any person who is moving or has moved across an international border or within a State away from his/her habitual place of residence, regardless of the person's legal status, whether the movement is voluntary or involuntary, the causes of the movement or the length of the person's stay.
