The State of Global Malnutrition

Malnutrition in all its forms is large-scale and universal

49 million
children are wasted

149 million
children are stunted

1.5 billion
people are affected by one of more forms of micronutrient deficiency

672 million
adults are obese

40 million
children are overweight

Undernutrition, overweight and obesity coexist in many countries

WFP's Nutrition Policy 2017-2021

Implementing the Nutrition Policy

Based on the CSPs and Regional priorities, the implementation plan includes four focus areas:

Improving Management of Acute
Malnutrition

Preventing Stunting

Working in Partnership with National Governments

Working on Nutrition in Partnership at all levels

WFP Nutrition Global Reach in 2018

- 15.8 million beneficiaries reached with nutrition programmes (47% increase since 2013)
- 59 countries where WFP implements nutrition programmes
- 47% increase of nutrition beneficiaries between 2013-2018
- 86% of WFP Nutrition beneficiaries live in an emergency context

Nutrition Policy - Priority 1: Treatment and Prevention of Moderate Acute Malnutrition (MAM)

WFP
VISION

Prevent as many cases of Acute Malnutrition as possible from falling into Severe Acute Malnutrition, while Improving Treatment

Nutrition Policy - Priority 2: Prevention of Stunting

Nutrition-Policy Priority 3: Working in Partnership with National Governments

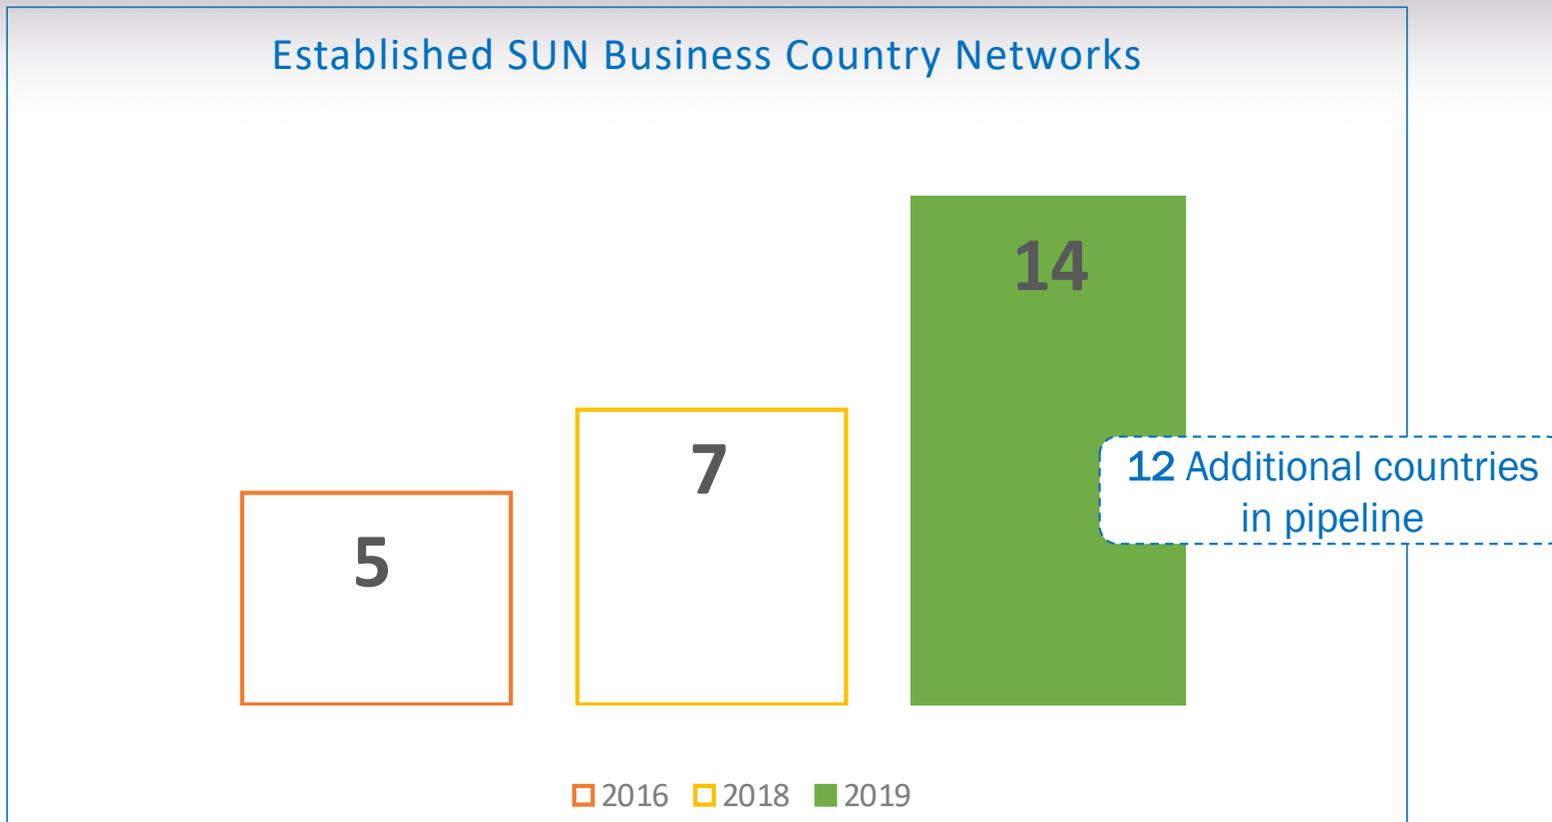

A screenshot of the nutx learning portal interface. At the top, it says "Welcome to nutx" with the logo. Below that is a navigation bar with "All content" and a search bar "What do you want to learn today?". The main content area has a heading "Welcome to nutx - WFP Nutrition's learning portal" followed by a paragraph: "Investing in nutrition is investing in the future! To share our lessons learned and experience will help us all to become better partners in fighting malnutrition. In nutx, you will find lessons learned in our case studies section and the e-learning courses on nutrition that we made for our staff. You will gain insights on WFP's work on nutrition, but more importantly we hope that this information and content will help you in your development work on nutrition!" At the bottom, it says "For any queries, please contact us at nutrition@wfp.org".
