CONTRIBUTIONS TO STRATEGIC OUTCOMES

Unconditional cash and food transfers contributed to mitigating food insecurity of people affected by shocks

MAM treatments largely effective for children under five, pregnant and lactating women, and girls

School feeding enhanced school retention, but nutritional interventions were constrained by funding shortfalls

WFP filled national institutions' capacity gaps but no clear strategy for sustainable capacity strengthening

Results of resilience related activities constrained by limited resources and insufficient consultation with beneficiaries

UNHAS services were essential for safe and effective delivery of humanitarian assistance, despite some concerns on its governance

Procurement services contributed to expanding bread supply to the population

WFP was instrumental for implementing the Sudan Family Support Programme, but lacked a strategy for capacity strengthening

CONCLUSIONS

WFP's comparative advantages and leadership in emergency response is confirmed

Development-oriented programming relevant but overshadowed by emergencies and shifting to the enabling role remains challenging

Considerable attention paid to gender equality and accountability to affected populations but further improvements are needed

Examples of conflict-sensitive approaches, but insufficient external partnerships to bridge the continuum of the triple nexus

Integrated programme design, funding flexibility and predictability, WFP structures and system, partnership and aid environment are critical factors

RECOMMENDATIONS

- 1 Strengthen programme integration and partnership to reinforce the humanitarian development and peace nexus
- 2 Advocate for longer-term funding to enhance predictability and continuity
- 3 Place capacity strengthening at the core of the new CSP with appropriate staffing, budgeting and M&E system
- 4 Strengthen country office capacity for gender analysis and transformative programming
- 5 Review AAP mechanism including complaint procedure, feedback opportunities and WFP responses
