Abstract

1. While Zimbabwe has made significant food security and nutrition gains, the year-on-year situation remains highly dependent upon increasingly erratic rainfall patterns that have deteriorated as a result of the El Niño phenomenon. Chronic undernutrition remains relatively high with stunting affecting 28 percent of children under five years of age. Dietary diversity is poor and consumption of protein is insufficient. The prevalence of HIV and AIDS remains high at 13.7 percent.
2. WFP's 2016–2020 Country Strategic Plan (CSP) for Zimbabwe aims to address the underlying causes of food insecurity and nutrition insecurity. It maintains WFP's strong humanitarian assistance capacity, while sharpening its focus on supporting longer-term recovery and resilience-building efforts.
3. The strategy outlines WFP's support to the Government of Zimbabwe in achieving five specific Strategic Results. This development project operationalizes Strategic Result 1: The social protection system is strengthened to enhance resilience for food and nutrition security among acutely and chronically vulnerable populations. The protracted relief and recovery operation (PRRO) 200944 operationalizes Strategic Results 2, 3 and 5, focusing on meeting the needs of vulnerable persons all year round, improving vulnerable households' resilience to shocks and the efficient and effective delivery of nutrition services through and integrated across sectors. Strategic Result 4, which focuses on empowering smallholder farmers to market drought-resistant crops, is being operationalized through Development Project 200946, whose project cycle matches this development project.

4. Together, the PRRO and these two development projects, compose the entirety of WFP's portfolio of assistance in Zimbabwe as laid out in the CSP (2016–2020), and should be viewed as a complementary set of operational vehicles that are linked with one another. Both development projects are designed to position WFP as a provider of technical assistance and focus exclusively on capacity development. No direct cash or food transfers are provided to beneficiaries through this development project. The capacity strengthening activities are designed to support the national social protection system to become more shock responsive, thus reducing the need for emergency operations over time.
5. This development project particularly focuses on knowledge management, producing evidence and improving systems and institutions responsible for achieving Zero Hunger in line with the national social protection and resilience-building agendas. It is nutrition-sensitive, informed by gender and protection analyses, and applies the “do-no-harm” approach.
6. This development project is aligned with the 2013–2018 Zimbabwe Agenda for Sustainable Socio-Economic Transformation, the commitments of the Malabo Declaration, the 2016–2020 United Nations Development Assistance Framework for Zimbabwe and WFP's Strategic Objectives 1, 2, 3 and 4. It is structured upon the framework provided by the Sustainable Development Goal (SDG) 2 on ending hunger and also contributes towards SDG5 and SDG 17.
