Rationale

1. According to a comprehensive food security and vulnerability analysis, more than 3.5 million people in Sierra Leone – half of the country's population – were food-insecure in 2015. In the 2018 Global Hunger Index, Sierra Leone ranks 114th of 119 countries, with a score of 35.7 meaning that levels of hunger are "alarming". However, according to the results of an assessment carried out in September 2018 by WFP's food security and nutrition monitoring system, the food security situation has improved since September 2015, with the proportion of food-insecure people decreasing from 49.8 percent to 43.7 percent, constituting a reduction of about 12 percent.
2. This third revision to the transitional interim country strategic plan (T-ICSP) for Sierra Leone extends implementation of the plan by six months until 31 December 2019. The T-ICSP began in January 2018 and was originally planned for 12 months (January to December 2018) but has since been extended by six months until 30 June 2019.
3. This further extension in time will allow WFP to engage in substantive strategic discussions with the Government and development partners with a view to ensuring that the country strategic plan (CSP) for 2020–2024, which is currently being prepared, is aligned with the new national development plan and recommendations deriving from the zero hunger strategic review. The revision will also allow alignment with the United Nations development assistance framework for Sierra Leone, which has been extended until December 2019.
4. The previous extension of the T-ICSP was in response to delays in planned elections and the expected political transition in Sierra Leone, which made it difficult for the country office to adhere to the original schedule for submission of a CSP document in November 2018. Conclusion of the national zero hunger strategic review was also delayed and is now expected by the end of June 2019. In addition, the Government released a new national development plan for 2019–2023 in February 2019.
5. The new Government has prioritized the provision of free, good-quality education in government-run primary schools and has expanded its school feeding programme to these schools. In October 2018, the Government requested the assistance of WFP in support of this programme, which targets 420,000 children in nine districts: Kono, Kailahun, Kenema, Bo, Bonthe, Moyamba, Port Loko, Bombali and Karene. Specifically, WFP was requested to provide services for supply chains, logistics and capacity strengthening. The Government committed to providing a budget allocation for these services, and a related memorandum of understanding is currently under review prior to undergoing the approval process. WFP's provision of this additional support was incorporated into the T-ICSP through the previous revision approved in January 2019.¹
6. As the transfer of government funds for these services has been delayed by internal government procedures, WFP has agreed with the Government to provide school feeding for 85,000 children in Kailahun, Bonthe and Karene, in addition to the two districts of Pujehun and Kambia originally targeted by WFP, for 34 schooldays (two months) as a temporary measure.

Changes

7. The proposed revision does not result in any changes to the strategic orientation of the T-ICSP. The strategic outcomes and line of sight also remain unchanged.

Beneficiary analysis

8. The proposed revision will increase the number of beneficiaries by 91,000 under strategic outcome 2 (activity 10, provide integrated school meals to primary school children in targeted chiefdoms), raising the total number of beneficiaries of the T-ICSP from 412,832 to 503,832 (excluding overlaps).
9. The revision includes the temporary provision of school feeding for an additional 85,000 schoolchildren in Kailahun, Bonthe and Karene under activity 10 (see paragraph 6). These districts were identified as having high levels of food insecurity in the September 2018 food security and nutrition assessment and have large numbers of children out of school. These children will be assisted by WFP for 34 schooldays (two months) and then moved back to the government-funded school feeding programme, which WFP supports through activity 8, when the memorandum of understanding has been formalized and funds for WFP's service provision have been received.
10. Under the extension, the T-ICSP will also cover the start of the 2019/20 school year from mid-September 2019. The increase in beneficiary numbers also includes an additional 5,000 children who are expected to enrol or remain in school because of the positive effects of school feeding and an additional 1,000 children enrolling in school for the first time at the start of the new school year. These figures are net of the numbers of children who are expected to graduate from or drop out of school by the end of the 2018/19 school year in Pujehun and Kambia.
