Vulnerable populations have improved nutrition status in line with national targets by 2025

S01

S05

EVALUATION FINDINGS

Relevance & strategic positioning

 Highly relevant; well aligned with national development priorities

 Evidence-based approach, addressing food security and nutrition needs of vulnerable populations

 Relevant strategic positioning - WFP key actor in food security, nutrition, and resilience-building; agility and flexibility

 Strong internal coherence but community-level-upstream linkages need clearer articulation. Strong external coherence and UN alignment

Contribution to strategic outcomes

SO1 Nutrition: Improved nutrition for vulnerable populations and school attendance (adolescent girls) – but limited overall effects on education outcomes.

Social and behavioural change communication - reached intended target groups.

SO2 Food systems: Increased production and sales; reduced post-harvest losses – but targets unmet. Supply chain challenges impeded transition to market-based approach.

SO3 Capacity strengthening Enhanced WFP's enabler role in Ghana; helped improve government programmes. But no clear intervention logic

SO4 Policy coherence & advocacy Limited results - data challenges and incomplete interventions.

SO5 Crisis response Food security and nutrition needs of COVID-19 affected populations addressed. Other activities not materialized.

Integration of cross cutting issues

Protection/ Prevention of Sexual Exploitation and Abuse addressed.

Contributions to gender equality; efforts to address diverse needs

Environmental protection integrated; measures in CSP, climate adaptation mainstreamed

Improvements needed - consultation with affected populations, disability inclusion

Cost efficient use of resources

SO5 activities timely but others incurred delays
Expenditure rates - between 35% & 45% 2019 and 2021.

Most vulnerable populations effectively targeted – but financial constraints limited coverage

Factors explaining WFP's performance

CSP – uneven & insufficient funding

WFP monitoring system does not support transition to enabler role

Partnerships a crucial role – but limited collaboration with other UN agencies

Lack of management plan to align staff capacity to enabler role
Delayed decision-making/ slow approvals impeded performance

Conclusions

Progress in transition from delivering assistance to enabling national capacities
Showcased market-based approaches to enhance nutrition but implementation challenges

Supported Government in addressing food security and nutrition needs, yet room for stronger links between community-level activities, capacity strengthening and policy coherence

Relevant to needs and adapted well to COVID-19 but did not adequately address capacity gaps for crisis preparedness, community resilience and triple nexus

Lack of clear management plan/insufficient funding for capacity strengthening and policy coherence constrained strategic shift

Gender equality and protection integrated successfully, but challenges in communication with affected populations

Partnerships with Government and the private sector crucial, but limited collaboration with UN agencies

Recommendations

- 1 Define WFP strategic focus as an enabler and facilitator within the Ghana context
- 2 Deepen and align partnerships – e.g. private sector, civil society organizations, academia, UN agencies, other development partners.
- 3 Focus on support for emergency preparedness and response with relevant partners
- 4 Enhance collaboration processes with cooperating partners; use innovative financing mechanisms
- 5 Support the Government - sustainable models of market-based approaches for food systems strengthening; scale up nutrition-sensitive livelihood programme.
- 6 Review AAP mechanism and address bottlenecks to beneficiary awareness
