Wednesday 15th November
13:30 - 14:30 Auditorium, WFP

Side event at the Second Regular Session of the Executive Board hosted by the Friends of WFP Nutrition

Join us for a discussion on why prioritizing the prevention of child wasting is so important.

At least 45 million children under 5 suffer from wasting, and numbers are on the rise. Urgent and early action to prevent wasting will not only avert a catastrophic loss of life but will save a generation of children from a future marked by illness, poor school results and poverty. Our panelists will reflect on how, and why, prevention activities need to be at the core of our work as we endeavour to break the cycle of malnutrition.
